

Communications & Advocacy Internship, Spring 2024

INTERN: Watchlist on Children and Armed Conflict (‘Watchlist’) is seeking a current graduate student with relevant experience to contribute approximately 15-20 hours per week from February to May. Scheduling for this internship is flexible, and will be adjusted according to the intern’s and organization’s needs. Watchlist is based in New York City; this internship will operate in a hybrid model.

Please note this internship is unpaid, but available for school credit.

ORGANIZATION: Watchlist is a global network of nongovernmental organizations (NGOs) that monitors and reports on violations of the rights of children in situations of armed conflict. Watchlist uses this information to urge action by the United Nations Security Council, UN offices and agencies, and Member State governments. Watchlist also provides support to local NGO partners in areas of conflict to build sustainable, grassroots monitoring, reporting, and advocacy networks related to violations against children in armed conflicts. Watchlist is a fiscally-sponsored project of United Charitable, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization.

INTERN LEARNING GOALS: Over the course of this internship, the intern will benefit from several learning opportunities. At the start of the internship, the intern will receive a comprehensive orientation, including organizational background of Watchlist, the legal frameworks of the UN’s children and armed conflict agenda, and a historical overview of the development of the agenda. Watchlist’s Grants and Operations Coordinator will provide supervision, develop a general activity plan with the intern, and meet with the intern on a regular basis to discuss progress and challenges, answer questions, and provide support. The intern will have the opportunity to attend select virtual and potentially in-person meetings and events. These opportunities will provide the intern with experiential learning, exposure to the work of the UN, Watchlist’s international advocacy work, and networking opportunities.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Assist with tracking the impact of Watchlist’s advocacy initiatives, UN Member State policy positions, and Security Council activity;
- Assist with research and drafting of Children and Armed Conflict Monthly Updates, including specific recommendations for actions targeted at the UN Security Council and its Working Group on Children and Armed Conflict;
- Provide research and writing support towards drafting Watchlist materials on the protection of children’s rights in new and emerging contexts;
- Conduct media monitoring on specific country situations and Watchlist in the news;
- Support the implementation of Watchlist’s communication strategy with respect to educating public audiences on children and armed conflict issues, advancing advocacy, and highlighting current children and armed conflict concerns;

- Participate in grant and development research;
- Assist with other communications-related projects and administrative tasks as necessary.

REQUIREMENTS:

- Current graduate student in international relations, international law, human rights, or relevant field;
- General understanding of the structure, practices, and procedures of the UN system, particularly the Security Council;
- Knowledge of international humanitarian law and/or international human rights frameworks;
- Demonstrated interest in issues related to children and armed conflict and/or human rights advocacy;
- Strong research, writing, and analytical skills, including exceptional attention to detail;
- A strong self-starter, able to work both in a team and independently;
- Knowledge of data analytics and visualization platforms such as PowerBI a plus;
- Proficiency in MS Word, Excel, and PowerPoint and proficiency with social media platforms, particularly Twitter and LinkedIn;
- Ability to work in New York City;
- Knowledge of WordPress, MailChimp, and Canva a plus;
- Ability to read, write, and communicate fluently in English required; knowledge of another UN language a plus.

HOW TO APPLY:

To be considered for this internship, please send application materials via email, with the subject line “[Your name] – Spring 2024 Internship” to aleksandraj@watchlist.org. All applications must include:

- A résumé;
- A brief cover letter detailing relevant skills, experience, and why you are interested in the position;
- One brief, unedited writing sample (approximately three pages).

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis; however, the final deadline to apply is 5pm EST on Friday, December 8, 2024. No phone calls please. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted.
